

Arlene Eakle's Genealogy Books and Information Products 2013

We have been selling genealogy how-to books since 1964 through the Genealogical Institute, Inc., its predecessor Genealogical Copy Service, and its dba Family History World (est. 1976).

Arlene Eakle, with her Webmaster Kathryn Bassett Selling Genealogy Books, Southern California Jamboree, June 2008

The need for a how-to-book on the complete research process in its entirety was high in 1964 and is still high today—some 45 years later. Most genealogy how-to books are really source guides—they describe records in categories; some even use sample documents as illustrations. None of them cover the entire research process. And none of these guides actually expects you, the reader, to act. None, that is, except Family History For Fun and Profit, and our genealogy books and information products which are based on this research system. Our genealogy books take you by the hand, step-by-step, and show you how!

How do you put all your stuff together?

An accurate family tree is linked by relationship, a generation at a time. Too many pedigrees are linked by name and date only, with little attention paid to proof of relationship. So Arlene Eakle, Linda Brinkerhoff, and Afton Reintjes, have written a whole series of genealogy research “show-you-how” books applying the research process to books, information products, and genealogy blogs no other publisher offers. Using these amazing guides, you too, can link your ancestral families by relationship. And we are active in professional genealogy research using these exact same genealogy research techniques—that we show you within the pages of our books. You can trust these genealogy tools. You, too, can have the same success rate we enjoy by following our clear and tested step-by-step directions.

Research is jurisdictional.

Each of our books is based on the "Jurisdictional Approach." The sources you search are created by different levels of authority called jurisdictions. These record-keeping authorities have specific interest and responsibility for your ancestors. Each jurisdiction creates and preserves records. If you search the right jurisdictions, you find your ancestors.

We guarantee that you can find, and document, and prove the relationships of your ancestors:

1. ...If you profile your ancestor first, summarizing all that you and your family members know about that person.
2. ...If you summarize the facts, usually in chronological order, and match them with your family traditions, as well as your own personal knowledge, and the personal knowledge of other family members.
3. ...If you search jurisdiction-by-jurisdiction, in pre-planned order, seeking additional information to expand and enhance the data you started with.
4. ...If you combine what you find in the records of each jurisdiction, building your lineage generation-by-generation.

FREE Report: "Cutting Edge Documentation for your Genealogy"

* Recommended for all Genealogists*

What if much of what you thought you knew about genealogy evidence and how to fit the pieces all together is just plain wrong? Would you keep doing the same things over and over again, getting the same dismal NIL (No Information Located) results? Or would you be willing to try something radically different? Something new and excitingly effective? Get your copy of our FREE Report "Cutting Edge Documentation for Your Genealogy" by going to my website and clicking on Free Content. Or, order directly from Arlene Eakle (see footer).

Your guarantee from us:

We guarantee you will prove the generation links and document your traditions, by following the step-by-step directions in each book. Some Notes about the Genealogy Library Center, Inc.

This is a non-profit library established by Arlene H. Eakle and her husband Alma D. Eakle, Jr. in Tremonton, Utah to preserve genealogy materials that might otherwise be thrown away and lost forever. At this time, the library, located at 62 West Main Street, is supported entirely by my research activities. Materials donated may qualify for a tax benefit. Current tax number: 01-0812471. 501(c)3 approval is pending.

Renovation of a portion of the building which will house the library has been completed. And we have moved into this part—with file cabinets, book shelves, work counters, and research tables. We have a new copy machine/printer, a computer with Microsoft Office Professional installed on it. We are not yet connected to the internet and we do not have a telephone installed at the building, yet. We'll add those when our local provider can give us both at a reasonable business rate and the rest of the building is ready for occupancy.

Volunteers come on most Mondays and some Fridays to process and preserve the collections and books which have already been donated:

- 1) To help you preserve your personal manuscript genealogy files, supporting books, maps, and other genealogy materials.
- 2) To make these precious and valuable data available to genealogists who share common ancestry.

We have made great progress since we first began. Several collections are ready to be searched. And an inventory of collections will soon be available on our website (URL in footer). An index to surnames is underway—with a preliminary list posted to the internet during 2013.

You will have access to all of these materials under supervised and archival procedures, with the option of making copies of selected papers. You can also request searches by email, postal mail, or by telephone.

If you have a genealogy research collection that needs a permanent home, please consider donating your collection to the Genealogy Library Center, Inc. We can give you a tax benefit for the donation of your precious genealogy stuff and you will have the secure feeling that all your devoted work will be protected and preserved. Your work will benefit future generations. Visit the website and see the links under Genealogy Library for a current list of collections already donated.

Where possible, I have personally gone to pick up these genealogy sources in my 3/4 ton pick up truck. Going east of the Mississippi is usually prohibitive because of the distance and the expense. So we recommend that materials be boxed securely and shipped:

- 1) Via UPS to Arlene Eakle, 875 N 300 E (Rear), Tremonton UT 84337
- 2) Or to Genealogy Library Center, Inc., PO Box 40, Garland UT 84312. (Note: this is a different PO Box from mailing address in footer).

Call or email that when shipment is on its way so that I can watch for it.. The UPS delivery person knows where to leave packages to make sure they are safe and dry—they arrive every week.

Genealogy Research Grant

You may never receive a Government Grant to trace your genealogy; but, here is a Genealogy Research Grant from Arlene Eakle and the Genealogical Institute, Inc.

Hire Me

to trace your hard-to-find ancestors.
And, choose your Genealogy Grant:

$50.00 Grant on Package #1

$100.00 Grant on Package #2

$200.00 Grant on Package #3

$400.00 Grant on Package #4

How to Claim your Grant: It's easy!

1. Match your Genealogy Grant with Research Package on next page, and circle it.
2. Review the checklist of what I need from you.
3. Prepare the genealogy data for your hard-to-find ancestor.
4. Ship or fax these research details along with your research grant and payment directly to Arlene at address in footer.

You can pay by credit card--American Express, VISA, MasterCard, Discover, GSA; online--PayPal, Google Wallet; or your personal Check.

Grant copy must accompany order.

Remember--I guarantee all genealogy research and family history work I do.

Choose Your Genealogy Research Package and include:

- A clear statement of the genealogy problem you would like us to solve. Specify the specific ancestors you want traced. We specialize in hard-to-find ancestors.
- Pedigree chart showing these ancestors you want us to trace with the information you already know filled in. You can send a computer-generated pedigree with supporting family charts on a disc or thumb-drive if you prefer.
- Copies of Bible pages, letters, obituaries, certificates, and other family records for these ancestors. Include any family traditions you have on them.
- List the sources you have already checked: Family Members, Certificates, Cemetery, Probate, Military, Church, Birth, Marriages, Immigration, Indexes. If you supply this information time will not be wasted and unnecessary research duplication will not occur--giving you the most for your money.
- Daytime and evening phone numbers where you can be reached with best days and times to reach you in case there are questions. Please include your e-mail.
- The mailing address where you want the report and all correspondence sent. Reports are usually too large for e-mail delivery.
- Dates for any deadline you have--special gift, reunion, genealogy trip you need the information for. Some research takes at least 6 months to complete. Hard-to-find ancestors may take a full year to permit field research where these ancestors lived.

Retainer Fees: Paid when research is scheduled.
